The diagram shows a cross-section of a road. The top part is a horizontal line with labels 'pobocze' (shoulder) on the left and right, and 'jezdnia' (roadway) in the center. Below this, a horizontal line with a central vertical dashed line represents the road's profile. The central section is labeled '5,50' and has a '2%' slope indicated by arrows pointing away from the center. The side sections are labeled '0,75' and have a '6%' slope indicated by arrows pointing away from the center. The road is shown as a rectangular structure with a dashed line in the middle, and the ground level is indicated by a dotted line on the sides.
